LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Appeal to desilt drains in VOC New Colony

Sir, Water stagnates after heavy rains in VOC New Colony (adjoining Otteri Nullah, Anna Nagar East) as the storm water drains are clogged, leading to overflow of sewage water from the underground sewer chambers on the road.

To add to the problem, a vacant land in the colony is misused as a garbage dump. After rains, the garbage mixed with water causes foul smell and becomes a breeding ground for mosquitoes.

I request Chennai Corporation to desilt the drain and remove the accumulated garbage from the vacant plot. S. Gayathri, VOC New Colony, Anna Nagar East.

Exposed power cables unsafe for pedestrians

Sir, Portions of live power cables that are connected to a EB junction box are lying exposed on the pavement and road margin in G Block 1st Street (11th Main Road, Anna Nagar).

During heavy rains, the exposed cables get submerged in water, posing risk of electrocution to unwary pedestrians.

I appeal to Tamilnadu Electricity Board to bury the exposed cables immediately to prevent any untoward incident. Gayathri, G Block, Anna Nagar, Ph: 95001 48932.

Restrooms are ill-maintained in Tower Park

Sir, I am a regular visitor to Tower Park (Anna Nagar). The restrooms in the park are not maintained well. The toilets are often overflowing, the floors are slippery, and the stench is unbearable.

With the crowds swelling on weekends, the condition worsens.

I appeal to the officials concerned to inspect my complaint and take suitable action. T.S. Karthik, 27/ 120, Halls Road, Kilpauk.

Vidyaakar gifts push cart to pavement vendor

By Our Staff Reporter

To help her livelihood, S. Vidyaakar, Founder of Udavum Karangal (NGO with administrative office in 460, NSK Nagar, Anna Nagar, Ph: 99401 88011) gifted a push cart to Y. Rajeswari (a pavement vendor of clothes).

Vidyaakar said that Rajeswari lives with her family in the slum at Annai Sathya Nagar (Anna Nagar), and ekes out a living by selling clothes from the pavement adjacent to Udavum Karangal's office on 3rd Avenue.

Due to heavy rains in the last two weeks, she was finding it difficult to run the shop, and her livelihood was suffering.

When Vidyaakar found that her husband was jobless and she was the sole breadwinner of the family, he decided to help her by buying her a push cart to ensure that her business was not affected by the rains.

This will help her business not only on rainy days but also to move around to sell clothes, Vidyaakar said.

Rajeswari thanked him for giving her hope to live with dignity.

Lack of causeway unsafe for pedestrians

Crossing through sludge across a canal where bridge work is underway in Rail Nagar (Padi Kuppam) is unsafe for pedestrians, especially school children. After the old 2-lane causeway got damaged in the floods in 2023, Highways Department started building a 91 meters long high-level bridge earlier this year. The project is proceeding at slow pace and will take another 18 months to complete. A make-shift narrow causeway laid three months back now serves as the only route for pedestrians. When it rains heavily, the causeway becomes unusable, forcing pedestrians to take a 2 km detour to reach Poonamallee High Road.

A parent told this reporter that, in order to avoid the longer route, many kids walk through the sludge oblivious to the severe health risk.

Man held for job scam

The Central Crime Branch (CCB) arrested Ranjithkumar on charge of cheating R. Srinivasan (resident of Arumbakkam) of Rs. 18 lakhs by promising him a police job. According to the police, Ranjith had collected Rs. 18 lakhs in several instalments from Srinivasan by assuring to get him appointed as Sub-Inspector in the Police Department. After Ranjith failed to fulfil on his promise and refused to return the money, the victim filed a police complaint. Investigation revealed that the accused had defrauded many by promising them government jobs. Fake appointment orders, bank passbooks, and other case-related documents were seized from him.

Music therapy for expectant moms

Carnatic vocalist and educator Divyalakshmi Kamalakannan (resident of Shenoy Nagar) has designed a programme to help expectant mothers explore music therapy for both self and the unborn child.

The six-month curriculum includes simple vocal exercises, the basics of Western music theory and introductory piano training.

She told Anna Nagar Times that her inspiration comes from her own journey of becoming a mother.

"My daughter Aarohi could identify 1,000 pictures when she was just one-and-a-half years old and played the violin at 3.5 years. As a vocal trainer, I sang almost daily during the period of my pregnancy, and that constant exposure did play a role," she said.

She has also researched on the role of music with a small circle of expectant mothers for over four years, many of whom shared positive experiences. For more details, call 90032 25123.

Local artist paints on junction boxes

By Our Staff Reporter

76-year-old Shobha V. Manickam (resident of 2nd Main Road, Anna Nagar East) is a creative artist and has been beautifying the rusted TNEB junction boxes with murals of birds, animals, flowers and other natural sceneries. A sustainability advocate, she brought art to the common garden at her apartment complex by decorating it with murals drawn on discarded cisterns, bath tubs, X-ray films, glass panes, tiles and plastic sheets. Recently, she has started to paint on EB junction boxes in and around her area after getting permission from the officials.

As most of the junction boxes are in rusted condition, her watchman Shankaralingam helps her in scrubbing off the rust followed by two coats of anti-rust paint, so that she can paint and beautify them.

With this initiative, Shobha hopes to inspire others to be more environmentally creative and mindful about how they deal with garbage and discarded items.
